EDINBURG NEWS

(Special to The Herald.)

Edinburg, Texas, June 6.—The regular meeting of the Edinburg Commercial club last evening was well attended by both business men and farmers of this vicinity.

The creamery proposition was further gone into, with increasing enthusiasm on the part of the farmers, they including more than half of the attendance at this meeting. Several stated they were willing to put in as many as twenty cows and from that number down, and it seems assured that a sufficient number of milk cows will be secured here by the farmers in the near future to enable a creamery to be operated upon a paying basis.

A communication from Marshall McIlhenny, special agent of the United States Department of Agriculture, located at Mission, especially urged that Edinburg, being the county seat, was the place to commence holding an annual Hidalgo County Fair; that the farmers in general wanted such a fair this year and the sooner an announcement could be made, the more time our farmers would have to prepare for the event. This matter was referred to the board of directors of the Commercial club.

All present were urged to attend the farmers' meeting on Saturday afternoon, June 13 to hear Colonel Heywood of San Benito deliver his address on the Unit Marketing system and as all arrangements are being made by the ladies of the Civic club to serve ice cream and cake on the court house lawn, the farmers, their wives and families were all invited in for a social good time.

After a rain of nearly three weeks, the Edinburg country is now being visited by sunshiny, growing weather and the farmers are able to attend to the cutting of their alfalfa without fear of a shower.

The corn crop continues in fine shape and the coming corn crop of the Lower Rio Grande Valley will doubtless be the largest ever produced.

Willard Ferguson, the mayor of Mission, visited Edinburg yesterday afternoon.

N. E. Tucker, the Mercedes postmaster, was here yesterday with a petition for the construction of a bridge on one of the roads entering Mercedes.

V. N. Lott, editor of the Mission Citizen was shaking hands with his Edinburg friends this week.

Charles Schunior, county commissioner of the Sam Fordyce precinct, was transacting business in the county seat this week.

John Clossner, county treasurer of Hidalgo county, returned this week from a business trip to San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

Alfred Lissner of Donna, county chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Hidalgo county, was in Edinburg Thursday.

Alex Champion of Mercedes, county commissioner for that precinct, was transacting business here yesterday.

On Tuesday night of this week the ladies of Edinburg Civic club, cooperating with the picture show here, gave a home talent entertainment, which was enjoyed by a large audience.

About nine numbers and three reels of pictures made up the program. The feature of the evening being the "Indian War Dance" by the battery of the Edinburg ball team, Henderson and Nellen. The receipts will go into the treasury of the Civic club and will be used by the ladies for the benefit of any civic improvement for Edinburg.

The regular meeting of Hidalgo lodge No. 1036, A. F. & A. M., was held in their lodge room in Edinburg Wednesday night of this week. The usual business was transacted, including the election of the following officers for the ensuing Masonic year: R. B. Curry, W. M.; Roy H. Klossner, S. W.; A. Y. Baker, J. W.; Henry Klossner, treasurer; V. A. Albers, secretary; J. B. F. McMillan, tiler.

Isidor Moritz of San Benito, the deputy district grand master for this Masonic district, was in attendance at this meeting.

Prevent Baby's Summer Illness;
Drive Out Germ-Ridden Fly.

College Station, Texas, June 6.—Dr. O. M. Ball, professor of Biology, at the A. & M. College of Texas is an enemy to the fly and to filth and waste that produce disease. Dr. Ball has made a study of the life history of the fly, of its breeding place, and of the rapidity with which they multiply. He says they are carriers of disease.

Here is a statement from Dr. Ball with reference to the fly-pest.

"Flies breed in dirt, chiefly in stable manure. After hatching, they live in and on dirt. Dirt, especially that composed of human waste, swarms with bacteria, and many kinds of bacteria cause disease. Such are typhoid fever and diarrhoea, which the typically summer diseases.

"If you have either of these diseases that fact is almost conclusive proof that you have swallowed human waste.

"The fly was the carrier, perhaps. From the cess-pool, or vault, or dirt pile he brought these germs to your food or drink.

"If your baby sickens and dies of 'summer complaint' it is very probable that the germs in its delicate stomach and intestines were brought by your house-flies from a vault used by negroes or Mexicans.

"That baby's sickness and death could have been prevented.

And this is how—

1. If you have no sewer connection, install a Septic tank. It costs from $25 to $50 will last forever, practically runs itself, saves the doctors' bills, and saves the babies. Plans, estimates, and general directions along this line may be had from the department of Biology, A. & M. College, College Station, Tex.

2. Keep the premises clean, remembering that almost always it is human dirt that causes human disease.

3. Kill the flies. Use any kind of a trap, or fly-paper, but here is a formula that has been tried out by the Biology department and found very effective.

Sour milk, one quart, Formalin, two table-spoonsful.

The formalin costs about forty cents a quart, at the drug store. Use a watering pot or sprinkler. Early in the morning when the flies are hungry, sprinkle this solution over floors, tables, sills or wherever the flies light. Within twenty minutes, ninety per cent of your flies will be dead. If sour milk is scarce molasses and water may be used. Used in this way, Formalin is absolutely safe. Should a few drops fall into the food it will do no harm. Keep the bottle of Formalin away from the children, however.

One teaspoonful of Formalin to a pint of water makes the most effective germicide known. Wash out your sinks, bath tubs and ice boxes with it. This formula for flies costs about two cents.

Austrian Tax Payer Alarmed
Over Increase For Military.

Government Insists It Is At Peace With World, And Mr. Taxpayer Wonders Why $186,000,000 Is Needed For Army And Navy.

Vienna, June 6.—The Austro-Hungarian tax payer has become gravely alarmed over the fact that the military estimates for the coming year are nearly double the army and navy expenditure of seven years ago. From government sources there have come frequent assertions that relations with other countries are most peaceful and amicable. If this be true, the people are wondering why the government come forward with a military budget which could not be much greater if the empire was on the verge of war.

The sum asked by the minister of war is $186,000,000. The army wants $115,000,000 while the navy will get along with $36,000,000. The remaining $35,000,000 will be spent on the militia and reserve forces. Seven years ago the total budget for the three branches of service amounted to only $96,000,000, a sum considerably less than is now demanded for the army alone.

The popular protest is that the administrations has much to do with the increasing budgets, the press has lately been discussing the influence exerted by the ring of manufacturers of steel and armaments.

Since Austria Hungary started to build ships of the dreadnought type three years ago, the taxpayers have been astonished to find that these are costing many millions more than warships of similar size and power built by Germany and Great Britain. The iron and steel and other materials employed are all considerably dearer than in any other two countries named.

It is charged that the government is being held up by a ring of manufacturers. Since it is the settled policy of the various government departments not to buy anything on side the country if it can be obtained in Austria-Hungary, it has been difficult to find a remedy for the situation.

Apparently the manufacturers' ring constitutes a very powerful organization. The shareholders include many influential and exalted persons. The shares in one of the principal shipbuilding concerns have risen in the past few years from $80 to $1840, an increase of 2300 per cent.

He stood in the center of the ballroom floor and mopped the perspiration from his brow.

"Having trouble with the hesitation?" someone inquired.

"Trouble?" he puffed. "I paid a little runt of a dancing teacher $200 last winter to teach me those four steps, and by gosh, I forget two of 'em every time I try it."—Detroit Free Press.

Some lucky men inherit the earth and some are appointed on government commissions to investigate things in Europe at a salary of ten dollars a day and expenses.

WHERE TO SPEND THE VACATION.

That is the important question to the majority of American people just now.

The railroads and resort managers are eager for business and they bid for it in a lively manner. No need for any one to choose disappointment instead of rest and delightful recreation.

Read the advertising in today's Herald and send for the booklet and literature so freely offered.

It is sometimes as much fun studying the resort literature as it is to travel—and it's a liberal education.

It is the duty of the modern newspaper to help its readers. In this season of the year the resort and railroad advertising is one of the most service giving features.
